Some of the papers out West are asking who presses the button when the President changes his mind. Why don't they ask Mark Hanna?

After all the fuss made over it in St. Louis, twelve bottles of Mississippi water sent to Washington for analysis failed to show any sewerage pollution. Perhaps it couldn't stand bottling.

SPLENDID RECEPTION.

Given Last Night by Wilmington Light Infantry to Confederate Veterans.

AN ELABORATE FUNCTION.

Elegant Banquet Served and Superb Entertainment Accorded Members of Cape Fear Camp, U. C. V.—An Evening of Enjoyment.

It was entertainment royal and hospitality characteristic only of the Wilmington Light Infantry that attended last evening's reception by the company to the veterans of Cape Fear Camp No. 254, U. C. V., and the occasion will go down in the memories of those present as one replete with genuine pleasure and overflowing with good fellowship between those who wore the "gray" on the one hand and their enthusiastic "sons" of the W. L. I., who last night royally demonstrated their appreciation of the soldiers of bygone days in the elaborate function given in their honor.

The handsome armory of the W. L. I., on Market street—one of the finest in the South—had been handsomely and appropriately decorated with Confederate flags, bunting, mosses and evergreens by the committee of arrangements, consisting of Mr. George P. James, president of the company; Mr. N. E. Gillican, vice president of the company; Mr. R. N. Sweet, an honorary member of the company; and the elegant and spacious rooms of the building presented a scene of splendor and brilliancy, which made them inviting and superlatively cheerful. The committee in the decoration was ably assisted by Messrs. Hall Whitney, J. Marion Woodward and others of the company, who worked industriously and contributed largely to the success of the event from a decorative point of view.

The Infantry was formed into line on the drill grounds at 8:15 o'clock by Capt. C. H. White and with them directly facing the W. L. I. the members of Cape Fear Camp under command of Capt. James I Metts, who with his command were escorted to the entrance of the assembly room, where they were met by the reception and arrangement committees already mentioned together with Lieutenant C. S. Grainger and ushered to seats around the banquet board which was prepared in long columns parallel with the room. When the company and camp of Veterans had been seated Capt. White in behalf of the company in a neat little speech couched in well arranged words of cordiality and good cheer, formally welcomed the veterans to the feast of good things that had been prepared for them. The welcome was responded to in fitting terms by Commander James I. Metts, of Cape Fear Camp and Col. A. M. Waddell, both of whom were unsparing in their expressions of grateful appreciation of the honor conferred upon the Confederates.

While gathered in the assembly room the participants in the reception were treated to a vocal selection, "My Creole Sue," rendered in a most skillful manner by the W. L. I. Quartette, composed of Messrs O. P. Peck, O. A. Wiggins, Jr., B. A. Jones, Jr., and Hall Whitney. To this the quartette was compelled by long and vigorous applause to respond to an encore. Following this were selections by the W. L. I. Mandolin Club, composed of Messrs. James Stevenson, Frank Pinner, J. McRee Hatch and O. A. Wiggins, Jr. They played "Daughters of Love," a waltz, and responded to an encore with a medley "Carolina" and "Dixie," which was greeted with vigorous cheers by the Veterans and Infantry boys.

After the music, the attendants upon the celebration partook of the very elegant and elaborate banquet that had been spread and good fellowship and words of good cheer reigned supreme. The banquet room was taxed to its utmost capacity and for the time being the reading room across the hall was made the scene of banqueting and refreshment serving.

It was, all told, a jolly good time and the veterans again became young, sung songs and the jolly Capt. O. A. Wiggins brought down the house after the banquet with enlivening banjo music which was characteristic of Southern camp fires during the civil war.

Reference to the splendid decorations has already been made, and to a civilian it would seem impossible to enter into a detailed description of this feature of the reception; to describe the arrangements of the flags; the significance of each arrangement and the hundred and one other things that are appreciated by those versed in military affairs and the history of our Southern Confederacy.

On entering the assembly room one finds the whole apartment brilliantly lighted and bedecked with bunting, Confederate flags, evergreens, and the national colors—the red, white and blue. Over the rostrum the ceiling is draped with large war flags of the Lost Cause. Upon the walls are hung pictures of memorable battle scenes; noted Confederate leaders, and among them are portraits of Capt. Donald MacRae, of Co. K, U. S. V.; Capt. T. C. James, late commanding officer of the W. L. I., and many others. Upon the rostrum in the assembly room is the Colt's rapid-firing gun, bearing the significant placard: "The Buck Kenan, Nov. 10th, 1898," and about the room at convenient stations are other like ornaments.

Notable among the refreshments were tiny cakes bearing the letters "W. L. I." and "U. C. V.," many of which were taken home by the Veterans as souvenirs in addition to corn cob pipes, upon the stem of each of which a tiny bow of white ribbon bore the inscription: "W. L. I. to C. F. C., March 20th, 1900." These were distributed to to those present as the "official" souvenirs of the occasion.

Suffice it to say in conclusion that the enthusiastic boys of the W. L. I. will long be held in grateful remembrance by every Veteran who shared their hospitality last evening and the W. L. I. boys in turn will always feel the happier for the cordial recognition of their appreciation of the "old soldiers" demonstrated upon this occasion.

Rentfrow Comedy Company.

The Rentfrow Comedy Company presented "The Witch of Wall Street" at the Opera House last night to a large and enthusiastic audience.

The Rentfrows give a good show, one which is worth much more than the small admission price and fully deserving of the large patronage thus far received.

To-night's bill is the "Three Musketeers," a play of great merit which ran for several months at the Knickerbocker theatre in New York city. There will be a matinee to day and "East Lynne" will be presented; seats 10 cents all over the house. Ladies accompanied by a gentleman purchasing a 30 cent ticket before 1 P. M. will be admitted free to-night.

Manager Collier has made arrangements by which ladies will again be admitted free at the performance this evening when accompanied by a gentleman with a full reserved seat ticket, which, however, must be purchased before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Survey of the Cape Fear.

The Fayetteville Observer of Monday afternoon says: "The United States engineers, who are making a preliminary survey of the Cape Fear for the purpose of reporting on the canalization of the river, returned to their wharf on the east side of the river Saturday after a week's absence and left again this morning in a small boat for another trip down the river. They are making their headquarters on a flat, on which is constructed a very comfortable shanty, very much on the order of a house-boat."

Protracted Meeting at Burgaw.

A correspondent of the STAR writing from Burgaw, says: "A protracted meeting is in progress at Burgaw. Rev. Mr. Martin, Methodist, Rev. Mr. Walton, Baptist and Rev. Mr. McGeachy, Presbyterian, have been cooperating from the beginning a week ago. Now Rev. William Black, evangelist of the Synod of North Carolina, has joined them. The preaching by the pastors is able. The evangelist's sermons are unctional, searching and convincing. There seems to be much interest."

Board of Audit and Finance.

Principally routine business engaged the regular semi-monthly meeting of the city Board of Audit and Finance, which was held last night, and upon which every member was in attendance.

The only matter out of the routine was the approval of the contract between the city and Mr. W. A. Wright for the operation of the new rock quarries in East Wilmington, reference to which has already been made in these columns.

Biddle for Register.

The office of Register of Deeds is unquestionably an important one and one which involves great carefulness, skill and sobriety, and it is therefore, with these elements in mind, a duty which each citizen owes to himself and his community to cast his vote for the man who most thoroughly possesses these qualifications. W. H. Biddle's career in the Register's office has been characterized by these qualities. The citizen has little to do with the records, save that he wishes them kept properly, but it is the lawyer who has to battle with errors, mistakes and incompetency and under Mr. Biddle's administration (so favorably in contrast to that of former Registrar's), hardly a day passes but that some attorney comments on the clear, accurate and careful manner in which the records are kept.

Therefore it is a duty as well as a privilege to nominate Mr. Biddle for re-election; not only as a reward for services well done, but as a benefit to the people, insuring for ourselves and posterity well kept records for New Hanover county.

2t † LAWYER.

Frank Stedman.

That he is not perfect his friends are willing to admit.

That the rewards he has received, he did not receive without personal bravery, daring and risk, which no one else then saw fit to undertake; and that he has not been over rewarded for such service, and in serving with integrity and ability at a former time in the office he now seeks, his friends contend.

That in various articles in the papers recently, attempts have been made, under cover of "printers ink," to defame, belittle and bemean his candidacy and his claims, evidently hoping to prejudice public opinion against him by sarcasm and malice, his friends have seen.

That these articles have been without foundation, and have been cloaked in such manner that they could not be replied to, and that they have been unmanly, unfair and wide of the mark of true Democracy, his friends declare.

That you will give him your support for having remained dignified through all of these attacks, and for his having been always true to his friends, both high and low, true to his party and just to his opponents his friends ask. 2t †

A Family Affair.

Jokes, even when their publication is paid for out of the "campaign fund," at advertising rates, may be amusing to their authors; but the SERIOUS QUESTION for the people of New Hanover to consider, before casting their votes in the primary election, is whether or not the HIGHEST AND MOST LUCRATIVE OFFICES of the county are to be parcelled out AMONG THE MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY. That is the issue. 2t †

THE ATLANTIC CLUB.

An Important Meeting Was Held Last Evening at the City Hall.

WILL REBUILD CLUB HOUSE.

Plans for Handsome New Building as Prepared by Mr. Charles McMillen Have Been Practically Decided Upon—Other Matters.

It is now definitely settled that both of the handsome yacht club houses at Wrightsville Beach, which were wrecked by the November storm, will be replaced, and that, too, with even prettier and more costly buildings than those that were destroyed.

Monday night the Carolina Yacht Club accepted plans and gave instructions for the early awarding of the contract for their handsome new club building, and last evening at a meeting of the Atlantic Yacht Club, similar action regarding its building was taken by that organization.

The meeting was held last night in the Mayor's office at the City Hall and was presided over by Mr. James F. Post, its enthusiastic and enterprising president. Mr. R. D. Cronly was at his desk as secretary.

The resolution authorizing the new building was offered by Mr. Champ McD. Davis and is as follows:

Resolved, That the president and executive committee are hereby authorized and instructed to erect a two story club house, on such plans as the executive committee may see fit, and that they be given power to do all things necessary to complete the said building in accordance with the suggestions of the president.

A member of the Governing Board of the Club in speaking of the proposed new building last night said that it would surpass anything in architectural beauty and design yet constructed on the beach. The president and executive committee are considering specifications and drawing from several architects already, one set of which, as drawn by Mr. Charles McMillen, was exhibited to members last night.

It will be a two story building surrounded by veranda on both floors and will contain elegant reception, banquet and ball rooms.

The meeting last night was well attended and enthusiastic. Besides the adoption of the resolution authorizing the new building, the following was also offered by Mr. Champ McD. Davis and adopted:

Resolved, that an assessment of five dollars be levied upon each active member of this club, in addition to the regular annual dues, the said assessment to be payable in equal installments of two dollars and a half each, the first between the tenth and fifteenth of April, and the second between the tenth and fifteenth of June 1900.

A committee was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions upon the death of the late P. B. Manning, Esq, who was for a number of years an enthusiastic and valued member of the club and for some time its president. A page upon the record book was ordered set apart to his memory.

The election of officers did not take place last night, but will be held at the annual meeting, which is appointed for the evening of April 3rd, next.

Locke Craige Addressed a Large Assemblage at Kenansville on the Constitutional Amendment.

[Special Star Telegram.]

WARSAW, N. C., March 20.—Hon. Locke Craige, of Asheville, spoke to a thousand people at Kenansville today. He spoke for two hours and much enthusiasm prevailed. People of all parties listened eagerly to the speaker's masterly and unanswerable argument on the constitutional amendment. A number of Fusionists, who were thought to be doubtful, say they are convinced and will support the white man's party. Those who are familiar with politics in Duplin say that Democracy has made decided gains in that county lately. The amendment will be carried by a handsome majority.

"It will take its place on the docket. I cannot tell what disposition will be made of it."

"What disposition will you ask made of it?"

"I shall insist on a trial, if I am ready for a trial."

"Will you be ready?"

"I shall try to be."

COTTON GOODS IN CHINA.

According to official reports China imported last year $53,961,713 worth of cotton goods. That is not much for a country of 350,000,000 or 400,000,000 people, the majority of whom wear little but cotton clothing. They have their hand-looms and the mills established by Englishmen, but with all this the fact that that country imports so little cotton goods shows what a field there is for trade expansion under favorable conditions. The Englishman from his vantage ground in Hong Kong, and his mills in Shanghai had practically monopolized this trade before the American entered it, and the Englishmen is more afraid of the American to-day than he is of all his other competitors combined. About $5,000,000 of the total imports goes into Northern China, and about $2,000,000 of it consists of American sheatings which the Chinamen prefer to the English because they are better and cheaper. An English writer who couldn't exactly understand how it was that the Americans were taking from the English the trade of which they once had a practical monopoly, made inquiry and gives the result of the inquiry in the following contained in a communication to the British foreign office:

"Why is this so, and why is it that American cottons are superseding English goods in these markets? The answer is, that the heavier makes of goods are in greatest demand in the colder north; that America is our competitor in these makes and that these American goods are superior to and cheaper than English. The Chinese dealer will not change his usual purchase for new classes of goods, but as soon as equally good and even superior and cheaper goods are brought to his notice he will not hesitate to change his custom. It is perfectly immaterial to him whether the goods he deals in are manufactured in Great Britain or in the United States of America; and as a matter of fact, I have asked native wholesale merchants here if they could tell me where the favorite sheetings and drills consumed in Manchuria are manufactured and they have confessed their entire ignorance of the country of origin, stating at the same time that they merely indent for their purchases by the special brand, or "chop." I am told that the proof of the superiority of the American goods is in the washing; when English goods are washed and the heavy sizing removed they are very inferior to the American article when similarly treated. America is at present a successful rival in the heavier manufactured cottons, and there is nothing to prevent her from entering the lists against us in the higher grades. The setting up of machinery for the purpose is simply a question of time, and if we are to regain the ground which we have already lost and maintain what is left us, we must manufacture goods equal to and as cheap as those of our rival."

The most of the goods shipped from the South to China are heavy goods. When the British traders found that American goods were getting the preference they began to play fraud, to put up goods of the cheaper varieties and to get the benefit of American popularity they put American brands on them, but this was only temporarily successful, for the Chinaman could not be long fooled by such tricks as that. After the first washing took the sizing and the weight out the Chinese buyer didn't want any more of that. Of course that hurt the American trader, for it was some time before the Chinaman discovered the fraud, although it didn't take him long to detect the fraud in the goods. But if it temporarily hurt the American it hurt the Englishman still more, for the Chinaman becamse suspicions of him and watched him pretty close.

The Chinaman in trade is as cold-blooded as a lobster. He insists on getting the best he can for the least money he can, and he don't care a continental about the nationality or the color of the man he buys from. We have had a good deal of talk about "the open door" in China, but the way to get the open door and to keep it open is to make it to the interest of the Chinese to open it and to keep it open. The way to do that is to sell the Chinese better goods and cheaper goods than they can buy from our rivals. But international trade consists largely of international barter. In this respect the English exporter of cotton goods has a decided advantage over the American, supposing other things to be equal, for he can exchange his cargo of cotton goods for a cargo of silks, tea or other products of that country and take it back to England, where he enters the ports and unloads his cargo without having any tariff duties to pay, while the American, if he made such exchange, would have very heavy duties to pay before he could put his Chinese products on the market. We may talk about "the open door" to China, and puff the diplomacy which secured it (if it has been secured), but handicapped by a practically prohibitory tariff the "open door" may do to talk about, but practically it will never amount to much. The door may be open for us to go in, but if we come out with a cargo of Chinese goods we find the door closed on this side until we have shelled out in tariff duties a very considerable part of the value of that cargo.

The way to open the doors of nations which have closed them is to encourage intercourse with them by removing as far as practicable restrictions on trade, and that means to get as near a free trade basis as possible. But that will not mean very near to free trade, for with the amount of money this Government now needs to meet the annual expenditures there will be for many years to come duty enough required to keep us a long distance from free trade or anything bordering on it. If we had anything approximating it we could in a few years lead our British rivals such a lively dance that they might well be troubled at American competition, which would get away with them without one third the effort it is now necessary to make to get a good foothold in the Chinese market.

MR CUNNINGHAM WITHDRAWS

The letter of Hon. H. M. Justice withdrawing from the race as a candidate for Governor was followed by a letter from Col. Cunningham, which was published in the Raleigh papers Sunday, in which he also withdraws. He regards the triumph of white supremacy as the essential thing, and therefore to more perfectly solidify the party he withdraws that it may unite on some other candidate. This letter breathes such a good, patriotic, inspiring spirit that we herewith reproduce it:

CUNNINGHAM, N. C., March 16, 1900.

TO THE EDITOR:—I believe the success of the Democratic party this year is paramount to the ambition of any man and that each member of the party ought to yield his own wishes in the interest of the unanimous action.

I think that is also important that the candidate for Governor, who is rightly regarded as the leader of the party, should be selected as far as possible without contest and with practical unanimity.

Holding these views and desiring always to do what is best for the party and the State, and believing what is the welfare of one is the welfare of the other, I have decided to withdraw from the race for Governor.

"I congratulate myself that in the contest which I have made, I have done nothing to create any enmities and that the friends of other candidates have been considerate to me and of my friends.

"I have endeavored to conduct my campaign upon a high plane of political ethics, indulging in no unkind criticism or harsh statements concerning any one.

"Every patriotic citizen must admit that the success of the party in the coming campaign is more important than the triumph of any individual, and that party success at this time should be placed high above every other consideration.

"The constitutional amendment is at issue and it must be decided in favor of WHITE SUPREMACY.

"My friends throughout the State have been loyal to me and they have labored in my behalf with effective earnestness and zeal. To them I am truly grateful, and it is to them that I turn with sincere pride and shall ever cherish their loyal support as the brightest page in the history of my life.

"They have waged a vigorous contest, and the assurances of support which I have received from many sources have been warm and encouraging.

I deeply appreciate every kind word they have spoken in my behalf and I feel they will understand my action in retiring from the race at this time, since I can assure them and the good people of North Carolina that I am taking this step because I believe that it is in the interest of party harmony for me to do so, and because I think my retirement will in a measure simplify the situation and increase to some extent our chances of party success. Every one who knows me will understand that my best services from now on, as they have always been in the past, will be at the command of the Democratic party, and I have never failed to enter into the thickest of the fight whenever the principles of our party have been assailed or white supremacy threatened.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. CUNNINGHAM.

The office of Governor of North Carolina is one that any citizen might be proud to hold and no higher tribute could be paid to his unselfish patriotism and loyal devotion to the State, than when, in his opinion, her interest would be best promoted by withholding from the race, a citizen voluntarily does that when there was a fair prospect of his nomination and election, and this is what Colonel Cunningham has done.

He had many friends (but not more than he has now) and might have made a strong fight for the nomination, but realizing the necessity of presenting a strong, united front to carry white supremacy, a matter of much more importance than the ambition of any man, however worthy or commendable, he like the true Democrat and patriot he is, voluntarily withdrew that the party may present a more united, enthusiastic and solid front.

The probabilities are that Col. Theo. F. Davidson will shortly follow the example of Messrs. Justice and Cunningham, thus leaving Hon. C. B. Aycock the only candidate in the field and assuring him in advance the nomination by acclamation.

The expansion fever has struck Boston. She wants to take in, a la Chicago and New York, about thirty-five outlying burgs, which would make her population about 1,200,000.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Spring Medicine for Exhausted nerves and the overworked body. Only when the nerves are weakened and inflamed do you know that they exist.

JOHN H. WILLIAMSON, Grand Island, Cal., writes:

"Although I am 73 years old, I have no particular disease, and am a hard worker. I use Paine's Celery Compound as a spring medicine to restore lost energy. I have used the Compound for years and find it very beneficial. When I take it, it seems as though I did double work."

Paine's Celery Compound is a medicine compounded to strengthen nerves, stomach, liver and kidneys.

WHAT SUBTERFUGE.

The efforts the Republican statesmen in Washington are making to wriggle out of the dilemma in which they find themselves with Porto Rico and the Philippines would be amusing if they were not so disgusting. There were among the amendments offered to the Porto Rico bill, Monday, one by Senator Foraker, who has charge of the bill in the Senate, and another by Senator Beveridge. Senator Foraker's amendment provides that instead of being called "citizens of the United States," as in the original bill, they "shall be deemed and held to be citizens of Porto Rico, and as such entitled to the protection of the United States." The object of this change of phraseology is apparent. If declared "citizens of the United States," then they could claim the rights and privileges enjoyed by citizens of the United States and could not be governed as a colony.

But leaving this out of consideration the amendment is absurd, for the Porto Ricans were citizens of Porto Rico before they came under the American flag, and since they came under the flag they are entitled to protection whether they are citizens of the United States or citizens of Porto Rico. In protecting them the United States would simply be protecting their own, and the citizens of Porto Rico wouldn't be under any obligation whatever.

Senator Beveridge's amendment provides for free trade with Porto Rico, not as a right but as a gratuity, and declares that the constitution does not extend to Porto Rico. This like Foraker's amendment is intended to cut the Porto Ricans off from making any demands for rights or privileges which may not be voluntarily conceded as a gift by this country and both are simply a shameful repudiation of the solemn promises which General Miles, in the name of this country, made to the Porto Ricans when he landed with his army on the island. No amount of trickery or word-juggling by Republican promise-breakers can wipe that out, or make the breach of faith by this country any the less odious.

No Right To Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always find friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected soon to die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles 10 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store; every bottle guaranteed. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Salisbury Sun: Mr. John K. Goodman, of Mt. Ulla, this county, has made new and useful improvement in the way of a combined land roller, stalk chopper and clod crusher, for which a patent has recently been allowed.

— Charlotte News: The Chatham Manufacturing Company has placed contracts for the $10,000 spindle cotton mill at Elkin, being built by H. G. Chatham. The company's $20,000 cotton mill will be an addition to its present $100,000 woollen mill.

— Goldsboro Argus: A new sect of religious believers, both white and colored, hailing from the eastern part of the State, have made their appearance in this county and are preaching at Patetown and Saulston. The white people alternated with the colored people, one preaching at Saulston in the day and the other at Patetown, and at night they exchange places.

Concord Standard: There is a rather strange case at Gastonia, where it is found that an eight year old boy caused the death of a negro, Will Perkins, a short time ago. The negro was decending into a mine and fell from the bucket dead. The cause of his falling from the bucket has been a mystery, but the little boy tells how he passed by the mine and pushed a plank into it just to hear it hit the bottom. The magistrate has released him on account of his age, but has written the full particulars to the solicitor.

— Stanley Enterprise: Harris Dennis, a notorious character in this neighborhood, told two revenue officers, J. W. Hasty and a Mr. Cox, that he could locate a blockade still in Montgomery. The officers took Dennis in hand last Friday as a pilot and stopped at Moratock to put up for the night. Harris pleaded that he was not clean enough to go into the house and if given the lap robe he would sleep in the barn. Mr. D. J. Eury, keeper of a store at that place, was awakened sometime in the night by a noise, and thinking some one was breaking into the store ventured out. He found Dennis playing havoc with the officers buggy—having cut several spokes in two and damaging it in other ways. Dennis made a run, waded the river and when last heard from was dangerously sick at some place this side of the river, from the effect the water and cold had on the knife wound he received only a few days ago. Hrrris failed to locate the still and no reason can be advanced for his peculiar behavior. [He has since shown up here all calm and serene.]

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Some of the Republican Congressmen are explaining to their constituents that they changed their minds on the Porto Rican Tariff Bill at the requests of a gentleman who resides in the White House. Is it the theory of these statesmen that tehy are sent to Congress to represent the White House or their constituents?—Louisville Courier Journal, Dem

—— "What McKinleyism means" is a difficult question which our amiable contemporary, the Brooklyn "Times," undertakes to explain. It all depends on the day when the interpretation is made—whether before or after an interview with the party bosses; for, what McKinley means before is in flat contradiction of what he means afterward. In a general way we may say that "he means well;" but you know what Byron said about good intentions as pavement in Hades.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— General Joe Wheeler has been telling the interviewers that under certain restrictions the Filipinos are capable of self-government; and Mr. Schurman, former president of the Philippines Commission says that all that is wanted for their peaceful control is a certain degree of sympathy and imagination among those invested with powers of civil administration. COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Within the first hour on the Cotton Exchange to-day a rise of eight to ten points was scored, this being a full recovery from yesterday's sharp decline. The bull faction continued in power throughout the session, despite the fact that business for investment account came in with extreme tardiness. The foundation for a rise of four to eight points on the call and a later additional upturn of four to ten points consisted of very strong Liverpool cables in place of an expected break in sympathy with yesterday's weakness here and fairly good buying orders from Europe. Supplementing these influences were numerous advices from the cotton belt, stating in effect that planters were becoming discouraged by continued drains. The strength of Southern spot markets was increased by renewed efforts of spinners to secure further supplies, while statistically the situation, at all centres was admitted to be the strongest in many months, if not in years. Rumors that a bear clique was undergoing formation exerted no positive influence upon the market. The interior semi-weekly figures averaged up bullishly. In view of the surprise furnished by Liverpool this morning, room traders were naturally reluctant to assume extensive new commitments late in the session pending receipts of to morrow's advices from the English market. The market closed quiet and steady at a net advance of eight and thirteen points.

PRODUCE MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Flour was dull and easy, holders finding it almost impossible to get bids on anything but small lots to supply current needs. Wheat—Spot steady; No. 2 red 77½c; options opened steady on cold weather West, but sold off under weak cables and an exceptionally dull trade. CHICAGO, March 20.—A bulge of five cents in the price of May pork, the result of a small panic among shorts in that article, was the feature of trading on 'Change to-day. The advance was due to fear of a corner and short stocks and the market reacted quicker than it had risen when the stuff once began to come on the market. May pork closed 2½c lower; lard and ribs 5@7½c lower. Wheat was dull, but fairly steady, helped by better foreign demand and closed ⅛@⅛c higher. Corn declined ⅛c and oats closed a shade lower. A belief was prevalent that the markets were being manipulated by a clique of scalpers.

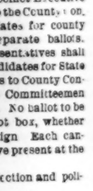
Who would think there was insanity behind a drop of water? But there is. It was a favorite torture in the old days to fasten the victim where water should slowly drip on his forehead. In a little while he was a howling maniac.

Women do not, as a rule, realize how the steady drains which sometimes afflict them must at last re-act on the mind. Sometimes, it is only fretfulness, irritability or peevishness. At other times the condition passes beyond unreasonableness to irrationality.

With the relief of the body, from disease, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives also a cheerful mind and contented spirit. When the drains and pains are stopped the mind soars up like a balloon from which dead weight has been cast out. Mothers who never knew a happy moment when the birth hour confronted them, and younger women doomed each month to a period of mental depression as well as physical suffering, have found a perfect cure by the use of "Favorite Prescription." It contains no alcohol, neither opium cocaine or other form of narcotic.

"I suffered with female weakness about eight years—tried several doctors but derived no benefit until I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. John Green, of Danville, Boyle Co., Ky. "This medicine was recommended to me by other patients. I have taken six bottles and I feel like another person."

"I took your medicine six months and feel now like a new person," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., W. Va. "Have no headache, no backache, no pain anywhere. I took seven bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and seven bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I think there is no medicine like Doctor Pierce's. I can't speak highly enough of your medicine for it has done me so much good. I don't feel tired as I used to, nor sick. I feel well and think there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."



Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are graduated to the sensitive system of women.

BROOM CORN SEED.

Tradition Says Franklin Planted the First One In This Country.

Every housewife is supposed to know how to handle a broom, but it is safe to say that not one in ten has any clear idea of what her sweeping utensil is made of or how it is made or where the material came from. Brooms are made from the heads or brushes of the broom corn, a first cousin to our common field corn. And in this connection is told a very pleasant little fairy story concerning Benjamin Franklin. "Poor Richard," by the way, seems to have been about the biggest jack of all trades that ever helped the United States to become the richest and most powerful nation of the world. If this story is true, he is the patron saint of the housewife and the broommaker, as well as a kite-flier, lightning catcher, printer, publisher, editor, author, philosopher, statesman and other things "too numerous to mention."

Broom corn first grew in India. From there it was carried to Europe. The story goes that Dr. Franklin was examining a whisk broom that had been brought over from England in the days before we had any broom corn of our own. He found a single seed on the broom, picked it off, planted it and raised a stalk of corn from which is descended, so to speak, all of the broom corn of the United States.

However this may be, broom corn grows much like its first cousin, our maize, which originated here. The head is larger, however, and the seeds grow on the head instead of in ears. The heads are cut off, leaving about six inches of stalk, and the seeds are scraped off by a machine, which does a clean job and does not injure the panicles. The seeds are valuable in a way. They are fed to horses and poultry and ground into meal for cattle. In the making of the brooms, the corn is put around a handle of basswood or soft maple turned in a lathe. Each layer is wound tight with twine or wire until the desired size is attained. The broom is then pressed out flat and sewed to keep it in that shape. Whisk brooms are made in the same way.—Buffalo Express.

AN EFFECT OF LIGHTNING.

Damaged a Pair of Eyes That Were Large and Bright.

Through the brotherhood of affliction that comes from wearing glasses in one of their various forms a popular official of the Rapid Transit company told in conversation the other day of a curious reason why he wore prescription helps to eyesight. "It was because I was struck by lightning," he said. "It was when I was in my teens. I sat between an open window and an open door and there was a flash. The last I can remember is a sense of having an envelope of light around me. I was picked up insensible and those who first saw me say that smoke issued from my mouth and nose. All thought I was dead, but I slowly recovered and soon seemed to be as well as before the heavenly visitation.

"The serious effects of the shock, however, developed in my eyes. Their largeness and brilliancy had been often commended on by my friends, but these more or less desirable features had been destroyed by the electric fluid. The pupils and the irises contracted and I found a great difficulty in my vision. An expert oculist examined the eyes and gave some scientific name to the difficulty. That's another story. I only know that I can see and am glad to be alive.

"One effect remains, however, that is rather curious. Most people who have been struck by lightning are fearful of being struck again. Not so with me. I'm not nervous even in the height of an electrical storm, but I confess I'm not anxious to sit in a room at such a time where there are two openings into the disturbance. That would be inviting destruction."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Is It Satisfactory?

That's the question that goes with every purchase here. If it's not satisfactory, bring it back to-day—to-morrow—next week—and get your money. It is this absolute assurance of fair dealing that retains our trade. Our customers know that "money back" is not a cry set up to deceive the unwary into buying, followed by all sorts of undue excuses and quibblings to avoid returning money on displeasing purchases. One of our maxims reads: "For you to remain dissatisfied is to make us more dissatisfied." It isn't to-day's trade we're depending on—it's to-morrow's—next week's—next month's—next year's! We want you to be so well pleased with your treatment here and with what you buy here, that you'll come again and again. And we will remark right now that our efforts to please have been so uniformly successful that calls for "money back" are rarely made. But it's here just the same, for any and all demands that may be made for purchases returned as undesirable.

SHE MADE EYES.

Women "made eyes" as a business in the days of powder, patches and artificial chivalry. Even now, some superannuated belle, who slew her thousands by these old fashioned methods in the days of Polk and Buchanan, will complain of her grand-daughter: "Nelly has beautiful eyes if she only knew how to use them." Chances are, the grand-daughter hasn't the perfect eyes her ancestor had.

We do not "make eyes," but do make bad eyes good by proper application of glasses where needed.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 21.

BOERS DENY THE CHARGE.

Accuse the British of Firing Upon Their Own Troops When the Latter Displayed the White Flag.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LONDON, March 20, 7.15 P. M.—The following dispatch has been received at the War Office from Lord Roberts, dated Bibemfontein, Monday, March 19:

I have received the following reply to my telegram of March 11th to the presidents of the Free State and South African Republic:

"Your Excellency's telegram reached me yesterday. I assure you nothing would grieve me more than that my burghers should make themselves guilty of a deed such as that laid to their charge by you. I am, however, glad to say that you must have been mistaken. I have made personal inquiry of General Delarria, who was in command of our burghers at the place mentioned by you. He denies, entirely, that our burghers acted as stated by you; but he says that on Saturday, (the date being illegible) the British troops, when they were about fifty yards from our position, put up their hands as well as a white flag, whilst at the same time your cannon bombarded these troops, with the result that Commandant DeBeer was wounded. Yesterday morning the head commandant wrote in his account as follows: The soldiers hoisted the white flag but were then fired at by the British cannons and compelled to charge.

"Perhaps it is not known to Your Excellency that the same thing happened at Spion kop, where, when a portion of the troops hoisted a white flag and put up their hands and whilst our burghers were busy disarming them another portion of the troops fired on our burghers; but some of the British troops were killed. It has also been reported that at the last battle of the Tugela English cannon fired on troops who had surrendered.

With reference to the explosive bullets found in Cronje's laager and elsewhere, I can give your Excellency assurance that such bullets were not purchased or allowed by the government. I, however, have no reason to doubt your statement, as I know many of the burghers of this State and the South African republic, took a large number of Lee-Metfort rifles and dumdum and other bullets from British troops.

"May I request your Excellency, as the cable is closed to me, to make my reply known to your government and the neutral powers by cable.

(Signed) "'STATE PRESIDENT'"

The dispatch from Lord Roberts concludes as follows:

"As the inquiry into that matter proves his honor's allegations to be unfounded and as I personally saw the holding up of hands which he denies, I have not thought it desirable to continue the correspondence."

NEGRO DESPERADO.

Killed in Norfolk by a Police Officer—Had Robbed and Assaulted Many Helpless Women.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, Va., March 20.—The indications are that the negro who has broken into several residences, assaulted and robbed helpless women recently, and well nigh terrorized the town, was shot and killed this morning by Policeman Salyer. He is Brooks Ramsey, a deck hand on the Chesapeake and Ohio steamer Louise, who about 5 o'clock this morning, entered the home of Mrs. Virginia Pruitt, an aged dressmaker, on Charlotte street, and brutally assaulted her with a piece of iron grate. Shortly after, fleeing from the house, he was arrested by Officer Caffee from whom he escaped, to run into the arms of Salyer, who after a desperate struggle shot Ramsey to avoid being killed by him. In the hip pocket of the negro, to which he had reached before Salyer shot, was found a 38 calibre revolver.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who were murdereously assaulted in their home the night of March 4th, identified the shoes the negro had on as having been taken from their house. Miss Cotton, who was subsequently assaulted in her home, identified the rings found in possession of Ramsey's wife as the same torn from her fingers, and Mrs. Jones, another aged victim, identified him as the man who attacked her. Several overcoats found in his house have been returned to their owners. He is no doubt the man the police have been looking for.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONERS.

Trusts and Manufacturers Under Consideration at the Session in Atlanta. A Remedy Suggested.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, GA., March 20.—Trusts and manufactures occupied the attention of the United States Industrial Commissioners at their session to-day. The witnesses were Governor Candler, Jack J. Spalding and Judge George Hilyer.

Mr. Spalding suggested as a remedy for the evils the trusts have produced, national legislation which would prohibit the trusts from enjoying the privileges of interstate commerce. Judge Hilyer said the remedy lay in government ownership.

Governor Candler did not suggest any special legislation but he thought the trusts ought to be regulated by the national government.

All of the witnesses agreed that the trusts raised prices by destroying competition, and were a menace to the States and to the nation.

Governor Candler spoke interestingly about the negro race. He said the race had advanced greatly in the past twenty-five years, but he believed the place for the negroes was on the farm. The Governor does not favor an industrial school for negroes. He says the best school for boys of either race is a corn field or cotton patch.

MORGAN'S SPEECH IN THE SENATE.

The Porto Rican Government and Tariff Bill Again Under Discussion.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Sulzer Denounced the Administration in Connection With His Resolution of Inquiry for Information as to Canadian Fortifications.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Discussion of the Porto Rico government and tariff bill was resumed in the Senate to day, Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, presenting a speech dealing with some of the constitutional phases of the measure. He maintained that as the treaty of Paris was the supreme law of the land it was impossible for the United States to abandon either Porto Rico or the Philippines. He held, also, that the constitution extended, to a certain extent at least, over the acquired territory, and that the inhabitants of Porto Rico were citizens of the United States.

Mr. McComas, Maryland, representing a majority of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, presented a report and resolution declaring Mr. Scott, West Virginia, to be entitled to his seat in the Senate. The resolution was placed on the calendar. Mr. McComas stated that Mr. Pettus, Alabama, would present a minority report.

The Porto Rican bill was reached in the regular order of the calendar.

Senator Morgan declared that resistance to American authority in Cuba would be as much rebellion as it is in the Philippines. The national power must continue to exist in all of the acquired islands until Congress should legislate in their regard. "The world," he declared, "must be amused at our discussion of the question whether the Philippines are part of the United States, while we are voting armies, supplies and money to suppress the insurrection of one of the many tribes in those islands."

Senator Morgan said the question presented to the United States was four fold: Shall Congress provide a civil government for the island of Porto Rico; shall we leave the island to its present form of government; shall we abandon it and recognize its independence; shall we suffer it to float out among nations as a derelict, to be picked up or captured?

As to the islands acquired from Spain, Mr. Morgan maintained that the treaty of Paris was the supreme law of the land.

Referring to Cuba he said: "That treaty requires us to occupy the island. We cannot abandon Cuba without disgrace and without violating our pledged faith to Spain. Nor can we abandon Porto Rico or the Philippines without inviting anarchy and internecine war." Congress, therefore, should provide schemes of government for them. The President would then govern the islands until Congress should otherwise provide. "The inhabitants of Porto Rico," he said, "ought to be given as full citizenship as any native inhabitants of country annexed heretofore. We have not debarred from citizenship any native inhabitant of any territory annexed. Those who have not chosen to retain their former allegiance have become citizens of the United States without regard to race or any other condition. I believe if Porto Rico is a foreign country we cannot pass laws to be enforced there."

Concerning the tax laws of Porto Rico, Senator Morgan maintained that Congress should provide laws that should be uniform throughout the United States and Porto Rico. In conclusion, he said that no bounds to our terrritory were set by the constitution and no limits were set to our expansion. He welcomed the Philippines as a part of our territory, because it might become a home for many colored people of the South; as a new market for American silver mines; as a new and great American mart at Manila; and, too, as an extension of the power and influence of the United States.

Senator Carter, Montana, moved to reconsider the vote by which a resolution offered by Senator Sullivan was passed. The resolution provided that each Senator other than the chairmen of standing committees, should be allowed a messenger at a salary of $1,440 per annum. He said the subject was already under consideration by a committee.

At 4.45 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

The House to-day entered upon the consideration of the Loud bill, to restrict the character of publications entitled to cent pound rates as second class mail matter. The bill has been before Congress for several years.

Mr. Loud defended the bill in a lengthy speech. The other speakers were H. C. Smith, Michigan, in favor of the bill, and Messrs. Little, Arkansas; Bell, Colorado; Henry, Mississippi; Stokes, South Carolina; and Brown, Ohio, in opposition to it.

Before the bill was taken up, Mr. Sulzer, New York, delivered a denunciation of the administration in connection with his resolution of inquiry calling upon the War Department for information as to what fortifications Great Britain was erecting on the Canadian border.

The committee on military affairs submitted a reply of Adjutant General Corbin, saying such information was secret, but that Great Britain was erecting no works which threatened our rights,

The committee recommended that the resolution lie upon the table. The House sustained the committee's resolution by a vote of 110 to 97.

On the committee's motion, made by Chairman Hull, that the resolution lie upon the table, Mr. Sulzer and Richardson, the Democratic leader, demanded time to debate, but the Speaker ruled that it was not debatable. Mr. Sulzer requested Mr. Hull to yield five minutes to him.

"I have no objection, "replied Mr. Hull, "if the House desires to hear the gentleman. I do not." There was no objection.

Mr. Sulzer said his resolution only called for such information not incompatible with the public interest, not for secret information. The adjutant general's report, he said, is preposterous and untenable and t is ridiculous for him to say Great Britain is not trespassing on our territory; no one contends that. What we do declare and what every thinking and intelligent citizen of this country knows, is that while Great Britain is pretending to be our friend, she is sedulously and studiously and insistently erecting great fortifications on our northern frontier, which menace the integrity of the republic, and which on notice of twenty-four hours could destroy our cities, our towns and lay waste the property of our people. It seems to me that to-day the administration is being humbugged by the administration of Great Britain. Nothing can be done unless we get the consent of Downing Street.

"I say that on this resolution I want to get the sense of this House and find out who are the friends of America and who are the friends of Great Britain. We ought to have this information. The gentleman from Illinois the other day reported to this House the Fortification bill, carrying an appropriation of three or four millions more than the last appropriation bill. We want this information in order to intelligently know what fortifications we ought to erect in opposition to the fortifications Great Britain is erecting. I think this resolution should pass. There is a feeling all over this country that the administration has absolutely and abjectly surrendered American rights to British interests. It has done so in Alaska; it has done so in regard to the Nicaragua canal; it is doing so now in the Orient; in the Philippines, in China. It has been done for Great Britain in this war in South Africa. (Applause on the Democratic side.) If it had not been what the administration did the other day, after consultation with Lord Pauncefote, after being told what to do by Salisbury, there would have been a concert of European powers which would have demanded the cessation of the war in South Africa. The administration here is more English than the administration in London, and it is time for some one to stand up here and talk for American rights against British interests. (Loud applause on the Democratic side.)

The resolution was finally laid upon the table—110 to 97.

Mr. Corliss, Michigan, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the Senate joint resolution recognizing the gallantry of Frank H. Newcomb, commanding the revenue cutter Hudson, and retiring Captain Daniel B. Hodgson, of the revenue cutter service, for efficient and meritorious services in command of the cutter Hugh McCulloch, at Manila.

Mr. Wheeler, Kentucky, said it was the duty of all of our officers to be gallant, and objected to such resolutions.

The Loud bill was then called up. It was arranged that general debate should continue to day and to-morrow and on Thursday until 2 o'clock, when the bill should be read for amendment under the five-minute rule until 4 o'clock, when the final vote should be taken.

Its provision cuts off from the privileges of second class mail matter, which pays one cent per pound, publications purporting to be issued periodically, and to subscribers, but which are books or reprint of books, and defines the conditions under which a publication shall be admitted to the mails as second class matter.

Mr. Loud said the government was losing $45,000,000 in the handling of its second class mail matter. This bill, cutting off some of the abuses, would save the government $20,000,000 annually. This measure or one more radical had been recommended by every postmaster general since 1837.

Mr. Loud said that one cent postage could never come until every class of mail matter paid the cost of handling it.

Mr. Little, Arkansas, who opened the debate, said that his opposition turned upon its hostility to the general policy pursued by the government heretofore of encouraging the ready dissemination of literature. He said there would be abuses under any system and said that the deficit should be wiped out by reducing appropriations for railroads transporting the mails.

Mr. Bell, Colorado, opposed the bill. Second class mail matter was a privilege, he maintained, enjoyed by the masses.

Mr. Stokes, South Carolina, opposed the bill, mainly on the ground that it would injure the country newspaper.

Mr. McPherson, Iowa, and others denied that the bill could affect newspapers in any but a single particular, namely, the reduction of the number of sample copies at second class rates to 500.

The Senate amendments to the Legislative appropriation bill were nonconcurred in, and the bill was sent to conference. Messrs. Bingham, Pennsylvania; Hemenway, Indiana, and Livingston, Georgia, were appointed conferees.

At 5.15 P. M. the House adjourned.

THE GOEBEL ASSASSINATION.

Story Told by Golden—He Say a Mulatto Was Hired to Fire the Fatal Shot Which Killed Goebel.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, March 20.—The stories growing out of the conference between Sergeant F. Wharton Golden, of the Barbourville company of State militia, and the attorneys who are managing the investigation of the assassination of Governor Goebel, have caused a sensation throughout the State. Golden will be placed on the stand by the prosecution in the trial of the persons already arrested for alleged complicity in the assassination, but information as to the exact nature of the testimony he is expected to give is lacking.

The story is published that Golden has divulged to the attorneys the name of the man who fired the shots that killed Goebel. The person mentioned is a mulatto, who formerly lived at Winchester, was prominent in the French-Eversole feud, and is known as a dead shot. This man is now supposed to be in the wilds of one of the mountain counties. Evidence that he was in Frankfort at the time of the assassination was found among papers taken from W. H. Culton, a clerk in the auditor's office, when the latter was arrested a week or so ago, on a warrant charging him with being an accessory to the murder.

IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

Dr. Hunter McGuire, the Noted Surgeon, Stricken With Paralysis.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, March 20.—Dr. Hunter McGuire, the noted surgeon, who was paralyzed last night, is in an extremely critical condition. He is conscious but cannot speak. His whole right side is affected. The paralysis was the result of an embolism of the brain, and not of apoplexy. His physicians say he may recover, but they will not be able to speak with any confidence for several days. Dr. McGuire has been in bad shape physically for some two years.

SITUATION QUIET IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The Political Surroundings However Show Some Important Developments.

REPUBLICS CROWN COLONIES.

Movements of the Boers—Blowing Up Bridges and Retreating Northward. Buller's Forward Movement in Natal Not to Be Delayed.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, March 21, 4.50 A. M.—While there is a lull in the military operations, the political surroundings show interesting developments. The Colonial Office has telegraphed to Cape Town the text of the proclamation concerning the destruction of property. This will not be published in London until after its promulgation in South Africa, but it is known that it will convey an intimation that any wanton destruction of British property during the war will be regarded as warranting a claim for compensation, and, as justifying a levy upon private property, should the resources of the Transvaal republic prove inadequate. The fact that the proclamation is issued by the Colonial Office is regarded as a significant indication that the republics will be administered as crown colonies. In this connection it is understood that the leaders of the opposition in Parliament now admit that no other settlement is possible, since the republics insist upon their demand for absolute independence. In view of this, the efforts of the Liberals will be confined to securing in the settlement the best treatment for the population, including security against their disfranchisement. It is regarded as settled that should the war be ended as is now hoped before June, the government will dissolve Parliament and appeal to the country on the basis of a successful South African policy. Should the war drag on, dissolution will be postponed until next Spring. In any event one of the foremost planks of the government platform will be army re-organization.

There is no further information as to the movement of Sir Alfred Milner. It is regarded as certain, however, that he has gone to Bloemfontein to arrange for the temporary administration of the Free State.

The reply to Lord Roberts us to the use of flags of truce is commented upon as impertinent and ridiculous, and Lord Roberts' course in closing a useless discussion is commended as wise.

Indications from Natal seem to show that General Buller's forward movement will not be long delayed.

The government have decided that Major General Sir Frederick Carrington shall command a colonial force of 5,000, including the 2,500 men Mr. Chamberlain asked from Australia.

Kitchener Occupies Prieska.

LONDON, March 20.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein Tuesday, March 20:

"Kitchener occupied Prieska yesterday unopposed. The rebels surrendered their arms. The Transvaalers escaped across the river.

"Mr. Steyn is circulating a notice by means of dispatch riders, in reply to my proclamation, to the effect that any burgher who signs a declaration that he will not fight against us again will be treated as a traitor and shot.

"The Bloemfontein people are affording us every assistance in the matter of hospital accommodations. We have consequently been able to arrange for beds.

"Thirty-three prisoners were taken at Prieska and two hundred stands of arms and some supplies of explosives.

"The Boers have begun to surrender on the Basutoland frontier."

BLOEMFONTEIN, Monday, March 19—The Boers blew up the railroad bridge over the Modder river, fourteen miles north last night.

Roberts and Buller.

LONDON, March 20.—Generals Roberts and Buller are still inactive, pending developments at the theatre of war. Considerable interest is attached to the fate of Johannesburg. Commenting upon a consultation between Secretary Hay and the German ambassador at Washington, Dr. Von Helleben, as to a proposition that both belligerents be urged to leave Johannesburg alone, the Pall Mall Gazette says: "This time Dr. Leyds has, as we may without impropriety assume, put about the tale to the effect that the German ambassador at Washington and the American consul at Pretoria are concocting a little scheme of German intervention. That is really a glorious yarn and one which shows to what desperate straits the enemies of this country are reduced. Just imagine a government which has formally declined all outside intervention permitting Germany to dictate the course of Lord Roberts' march to Pretoria. The German foreign office knows better than to invite the snub it would infallibly receive if it ventured to whisper so preposterous a proposal in Downing street."

Threats to Destroy Johannesburg.

LONDON, March 20.—In the House of Commons to-day the parliamentary secretary of the War Office, Mr. Wyndham, said the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, was about to issue a proclamation on the subject of the alleged threats of the Boers to destroy Johannesburg and as to what the Boers may expect in the event of wanton destruction of British property.

It was asserted in the lobby this evening that the proclamation would be a brief document of general application, prohibiting the destruction of farms, houses and other property, as well as gold mines.

Boers Retreating Northward.

CAPE TOWN, March 20.—The Boers have blown up the bridges north of Bloemfontein, including those at Winburg and Kroonstadt, and are now retreating to the north.

LONDON, March 21.—A correspondent of the Daily News at Bloemfontein, telegraphing Monday, March 19th, says:

"I learn from Johannesburg that it is not true that the mines have been flooded or otherwise damaged beyond the fact that the machinery is suffering from disuse. My informant declares that the whole story was fabricated to court sympathy."

MISSOURI PRIMARIES.

A Lively Exchange of Pistols Shots by Canvassers at Kansas City—No One Was Hurt.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KANSAS, CITY, MO., March 20.—A dozen shots were exchanged and a lively sprinting match was indulged in in the north end this afternoon when three Republican canvassers attempted to investigate alleged fraudulent registration from the rooming house above Election Judge John Pryor's saloon at 558 Walnut street.

Republican canvassers with two newspaper reporters, entered Pryor's place to verify the registration of twenty two men designated as living in the rooming house kept by Pryor. Pryor drew a revolver and started for Scroggins, who had taken the judge to task at the primaries because of alleged irregularities. Scroggins followed by Noland, dashed into the street, while Canvasser Morris covered Phil McCroy, Pryor's partner, who had grabbed a gun and started to mix in. While Morris kept McCroy inside the saloon, behind the bar of which a dozen loungers sought cover, Pryor, Scroggins and Noland emptied their revolvers without effect at each other in the street. Pryor was arrested to-night.
